

York Council Grants $180,000 To Hospitals Building In Toronto

Warden Fred A. Lundy was presented with a silver tea service at the annual warden's banquet in Toronto last night. Mrs. Lundy was unable to attend because of illness and Miss Audrey Lundy, her daughter, took her place. Members of the Newmarket council and their wives attended the banquet at which Leslie Blackwell, attorney general of Ontario, was guest speaker. Following the banquet the floor was cleared for dancing.

York county council is in its final day today. At yesterday's sessions, grants totalling $180,000 to public hospitals with building programs were approved.

Adopting recommendations of the special hospitalization committee's report, presented by Chairman Reeve F. J. MacRae of York township, the council approved grants of $100,000 to Wellesley hospital, $50,000 to the Hospital for Sick Children, and $15,000 each to St. Joseph's and Toronto East General hospitals during 1946. The council also adopted a proposal to impose a one-mill levy in the next four years to provide grants of $150,000 annually to Greater Toronto hospitals.

"Up to 1944 we of the county council made only per diem grants covering indigent patients to public hospitals," Reeve F. J. MacRae, York township, remarked. "This year the council has recognized its responsibility to the hospitalization program. We are in a far more advantageous position than if we undertook to pay for materials, property and building for new hospitals. Even $180,000 for 1946 and $150,000 for the years following is not a generous sum; nor is it our just proportion."

Reeve MacRae pointed out that in the six leading Toronto hospitals anywhere from seven to 47 percent of the patients are residents of York county.

Reeve W. E. MacDonald of New Toronto said:

"We have escaped a fair amount of responsibility in years gone by. We have lain rather heavily on the city of Toronto. It is only fair that some attempt at equitable distribution of grants now be made."

Recommendation was made by the committee that an addition to the County House of Refuge, which houses 71 old men and women, be seriously considered. The possible cost to the council is $200,000.

Of the $39,100 in the county budget for police purposes, only $31,364 had been used up to the end of October, it was reported by the police committee.

He then spent three years demonstrating in physics at the University of Toronto before going to the Ontario College of Education. On graduation from O.C.E., he accepted a position on the staff of Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational school from which he is at present on leave of absence to the army for his work at Khaki University.

Stwd. Wallace Hughson, Halifax, is home on three weeks' leave with his parents, Cpl. and Mrs. M. Hughson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Crowder have received word from their son, Sgt. Grant Crowder, that he has signed up for the interim army in Germany. This will mean that Sgt. Crowder will not be released until Sept. 1, 1947. The news was disappointing to the family as they had expected him home by Christmas. Sgt. Crowder reports he is in the best of health.

Pte. J. D. Flanagan, who is stationed in Holland, sent his mother, Mrs. Hugh Flanagan, a box of tulip bulbs.

HOG PROPOSAL VOTING SLOW, TIME UP DEC. 8

W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative for York county, said early this week that ballots on the proposed hog marketing scheme are reaching his office in very small numbers.

Registered hog producers in York county have until Dec. 8 to forward their ballots to the agricultural representative's office in Newmarket. In order to vote, a hog producer, defined for purposes of the proposed scheme as a man who produces one hog for market, must register with the agricultural representative either in writing or in person. Mr. Cockburn has emphasized that telephone calls are not acceptable nor can any producer register on behalf of his neighbor.

EXTEND REGISTRATION

The board of directors of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture announced yesterday that the date of registration of hog producers had been extended to Nov. 30.

In order for the proposed hog marketing scheme to carry, there must be two-thirds vote in favor of it. While Kenneth M. Betzner, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, stated that the total number of those voting would have no effect on influencing the decision, it is reliably stated that if the number of hog producers who cast their ballots, either pro or con, is low in comparison to the number of producers in the district, the vote will not be considered sufficiently indicative of the hog producers' wishes.

The proposed marketing scheme is advanced under farm products control act and was urged by the Ontario Hog Producers' Association. In effect, the scheme provides for setting of prices by a committee composed of packers and producers.

CHOOSE CANDIDATES FOR OFFICES FRIDAY

Friday is nomination day in Newmarket, East and North Gwillimbury with election day, should there be need for one, coming on Monday, Dec. 3, in each of the three municipalities.

Newmarket nomination meeting will be held in the Newmarket town hall auditorium at 7.30 p.m. Besides the six municipal councillors, mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve, Newmarket voters must nominate two commissioners for the hydro commission and three public school trustees. Rudy Renzius, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards and C. Morden Carter have each finished their term on the public school board.

The two hydro commissioners, along with the mayor, will administer the provision of hydro power to the town. In previous years, the administration of electricity in Newmarket has been handled by committee of council but since Newmarket has become a hydro town, the law calls for a hydro electric commission.

Both elected commissioners are paid, the salary to be decided upon by the council. One of the two will remain two years while the other must step down at the end of the first year. The commissioners decide by drawing lots which one shall have the two-year term. The mayor is not paid for his duties on the commission.

North Gwillimbury will have its nominations between one and two p.m. at Belhaven community hall. Reeve, deputy-reeve and three councillors must be nominated. East Gwillimbury nominations will be held at Sharon between 1 and 2 p.m. Again, a reeve, deputy-reeve and three councillors must be nominated.

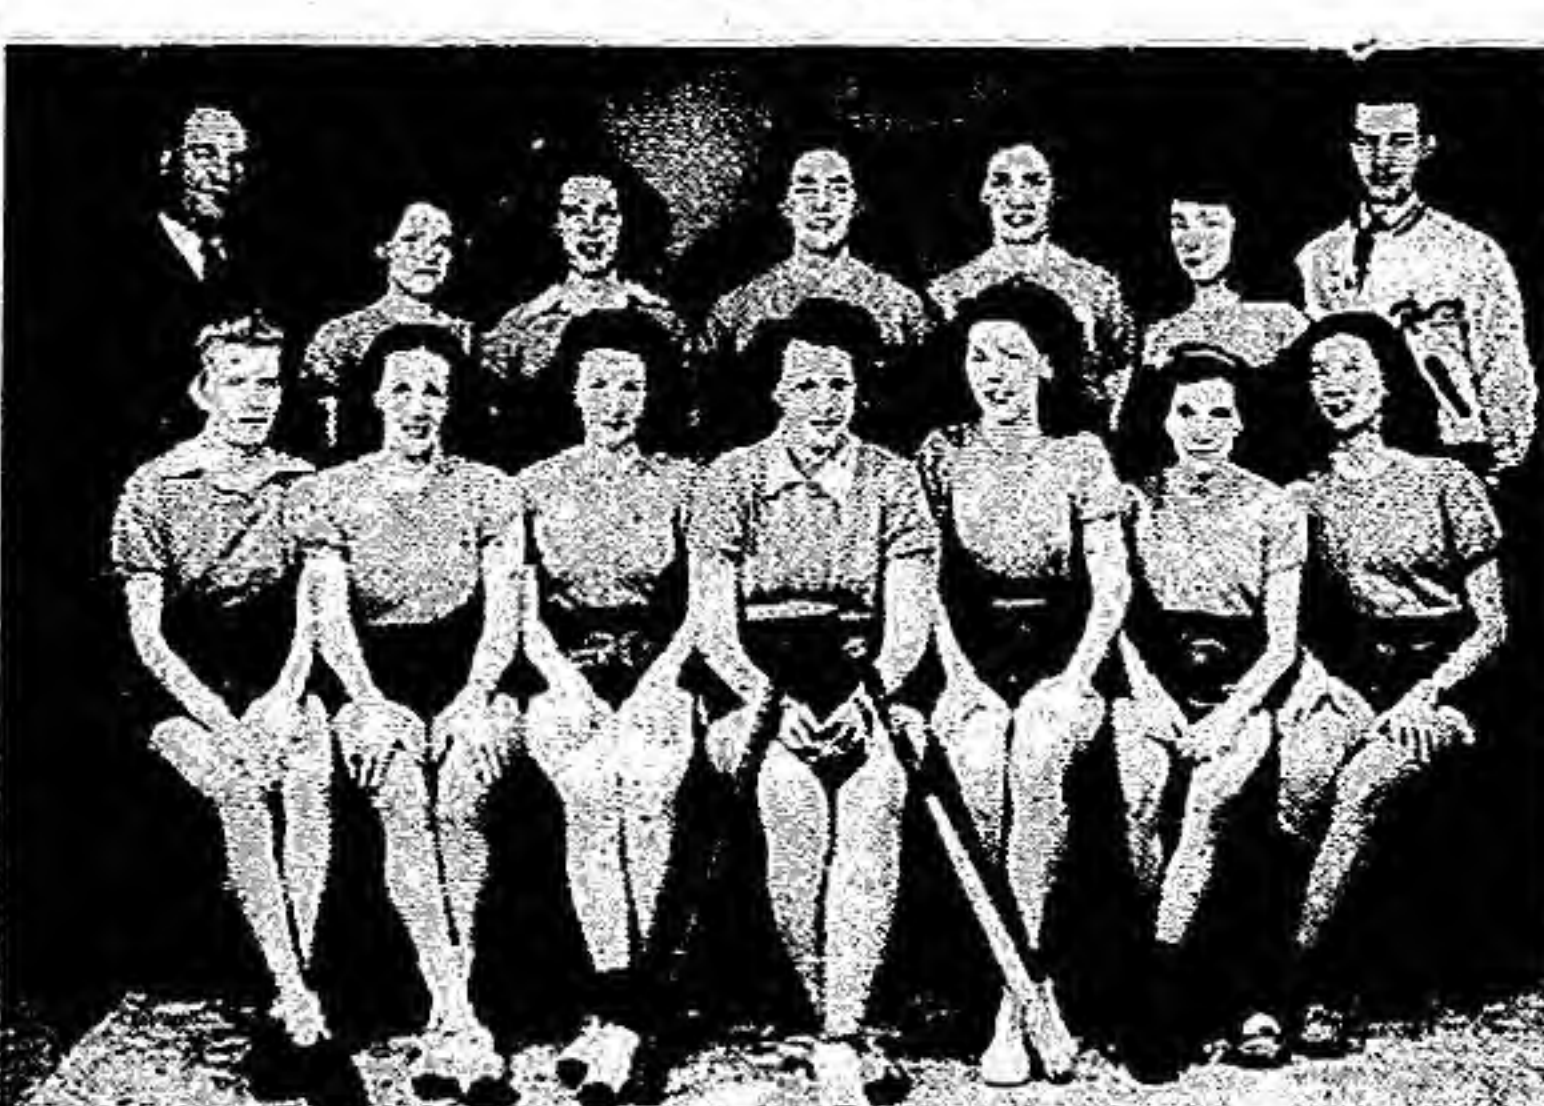

TRY TO OPEN SAFE WITH SCREWDRIVER

The office of Geer and Byers was broken into Friday night and a small sum in coppers was stolen. The thief or thieves attempted to open the safe by using a 20-cent screwdriver on it. Chief Constable James F. Leeder said that he thought the crime had been committed by youths. He said they entered the building from an alleyway running to the rear of the building.

Says Government Will Pay Share Of Recreation Cost

Reporting on the meeting of the Association of Ontario Public School Trustees and Ratepayers in Toronto last week, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards told the public school board Tuesday night that provision had been made whereby the provincial government would assume up to one-third the cost of a municipal recreation director and up to 20 percent of the cost of recreational equipment and buildings.

Following her report, the board secretary, R. L. Pritchard, was instructed to write the Newmarket town council with the endorsement of any plan to provide year-round recreation facilities and offering the public school facilities to further such a plan.

Mrs. Edwards told the board that provision for year-round recreation program was made under the department of education. She pointed out that it was not the policy of the government to impose such programs on municipalities but that when approached by municipalities desiring to begin such a program, the government would provide every material support.

L. H. Bovair, chairman of the property committee, said that the installation of a new furnace in the Alexander Muir school would cost up to $5,000. He urged that an engineer be asked to go over the heating problems at the school and that tenders for a new furnace and heating system be issued on the strength of the engineer's report.

A letter from the Home and School Association thanking the board for its efforts on behalf of better schools in Newmarket was read. The letter made particular reference to the board's action in appointing a special teacher to the teaching of music in each of the three schools, providing tables and chairs for the primary department, and the building up of libraries in each room.

Advertising Rate Change

With the issue of December 6 there will be an increase in the local display advertising rate of The Era and Express from 40 cents to 50 cents a column inch. Further explanation of this change, with a statement of publishing costs, has been mailed to merchants and is available at this office to anyone interested.

The Era and Express net paid circulation of 3,283 more than justifies this rate, but in addition, The Era and Express needs increased revenues. A change in the national advertising rate was effected earlier this year and now the local rate is being brought into line. These changes should make possible new equipment and additional staff which The Era and Express needs in order to improve its service to the community.

Advertising and subscription rates are not under the price ceiling, although printing prices are.

Co-operation in acceptance of the new rate will be appreciated.

Andrew Hebb, Publisher.

VETERANS TO MEET

The Newmarket Veterans' Association will hold its monthly meeting in the municipal building at the corner of Main and Botsford Sts. on Thursday, Nov. 29. Veterans are asked to attend in as large a number as possible.

COMPLAINTS OF ROWDYISM BY PUPILS AIRED

The public school board at its meeting Tuesday night in the council chambers heard complaints of rowdiness of public school children in the form of the bullying of smaller children, fighting and wrestling on the streets, and the destruction of property.

L. H. Bovair told of being informed of an incident where two boys pushed a little girl about with sufficient violence to risk serious injury. Other complaints of this nature were repeated by board members. After some discussion, the following open letter to parents was authorized:

"Evidence of increasing rowdiness among public school children on their way home from school has been brought to the attention of the public school board.

"The board strongly urges the co-operation of all parents to help stamp out this condition. The teachers and principals can only do so much. It is equally the duty of parents to make certain that their children get in a responsible manner on their way to and from school.

"The aid of every parent is sought in reporting all evidence of bullying, destruction of property, and irresponsible activity on the part of school children, to the nearest principal, and to take steps to remedy such activity by their own children."

At the same time, the board instructed the secretary, R. L. Pritchard, to write the principals authorizing them to take any action they saw fit. Mr. Pritchard was also asked to write the Newmarket town council and the police advising them of the situation and requesting their support in remedying it.

IS ILL IN HOSPITAL

Miss Shirley Deller, Newmarket, is ill in York County hospital.

VETERANS SEEK AID TO FURNISH ROOM

An appeal for aid in furnishing a clubroom for Newmarket veterans was made this week by the Newmarket Veterans' Association through Rev. Henry Cotton, padre of the association, and Bert Ward, president of the association, and both veterans of two wars.

In a joint statement, both men urged the support and co-operation of citizens of Newmarket in accomplishing this aim. Their statement reads: "The Newmarket Veterans' Association has been given permission to use the third floor of the municipal building for their clubrooms. The Newmarket Citizens' Band has co-operated with the association in making this possible.

"The association is appealing to citizens of Newmarket to help them furnish the rooms. Please send your donations to the president, Bert Ward, or the padre, Rev. Henry Cotton."

Queried about the appeal, Mr. Cotton said that it was hoped to install a table-tennis table, one or two card tables, a washroom, some comfortable chairs and chesterfields. There has never been a comfortable clubroom that the veterans could call their own in Newmarket," he said.

"The veterans of the last war and the men returning from this one deserve at least the consideration of a clubroom. We are asking the support of everyone in town to make this clubroom a comfortable one, one which the veterans can enjoy. It would be only a small return for their sacrifices."

Street Light Brackets Ordered For Main St.

Brackets for the street lights on Main St. when the poles are removed to permit the widening of the street are on order but it will be some weeks yet before they arrive, Deputy-Reeve A. D. Evans, chairman of the water and light committee of Newmarket town council, said today.

As a temporary measure, light brackets are being taken from Huron St. and used on Main St. In order to move the poles to permit the widening of Main St., it will be necessary to run electric wires behind the buildings on the west side. "One delay is that some of the merchants on Main St. have not prepared their buildings to receive electric power from the rear," said Mr. Evans.

Work of connecting electric outlets is proceeding as fast as possible, said Mr. Evans. For the time being, it is only the west curbing which will be removed off Main St.

ARE WED 25 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Tess Gilkes will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Nov. 24. Mrs. Gilkes was a nursing sister during the last war and also a war bride. Mr. Gilkes served overseas during the last war.

MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES

Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey, president of the Newmarket Catholic Women's League, and Mrs. Leo Forhan, war convener, were delegates to the 25th anniversary of the Catholic Women's League of Canada in Toronto Nov. 7 and 8. Highlight of the occasion was the address of Archbishop McGuigan in which he urged the women of Canada to maintain their high standard of work for the future and not to become lax now that the years of strife are done.

Miss Foy, president of the Diocesan League, said that the national membership had now reached 80,000, and that Mrs. P. McGarry of Kitchener, past president, had been awarded the O.B.E. by King George.

Cdn. Hoffman Co. Buys Queen St. Site To Erect Factory

Canadian Hoffman Co. Ltd., manufacturers of dry cleaning equipment, filters, garment presses and other specialties for commercial use, have purchased the industrial site on Queen and Charles Sts. and will build a $150,000 plant there as soon as possible.

A special meeting of Newmarket town council was called Saturday night to pass the necessary by-law to enable the sale of the land for $200. The deed was taken to Toronto Monday morning by Clerk Wesley Brooks where J. P. McGuire, president of the firm, signed it.

The Canadian Hoffman Co. has also purchased George Stark's foundry and work of renovation and repair was begun there Monday. The firm has a heavy back log of casting to pick up and it is planned to use the foundry until the firm can build one of its own.

The Canadian Hoffman Co. is a subsidiary of the U.S. Hoffman Machine Corporation with a head office in New York.

It is expected that the plant will have a floor space of 50,000 square feet and will employ between 50 and 100 men. Men with experience in shop work and metal work will be required. It is planned to use local labor with the exception of key personnel and any present employees who wish to follow the plant to Newmarket.

The Canadian Hoffman Co. has been situated in Toronto for close to 40 years. A sales and parts office will be maintained in Toronto with a factory office in Newmarket.

Large Industrial Boom Is Expected Here For '46

In a statement early this week on the locating here of the Canadian Hoffman Co. Ltd., Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee of the Newmarket town council, declared that Newmarket was facing an industrial boom this coming year such as it had never had before. "The locating of the Canadian Hoffman Co. here is a milestone in Newmarket history," he said.

Negotiations to bring the new industry had been going on for several weeks before the deed to the land on Queen and Charles Sts. was signed by J. P. McGuire, president of the firm, Monday. The site was sold for $200.

In his statement, Mr. Vale told how Dr. J. C. R. Edwards had arranged an appointment between the heads of the firm and the industrial committee of Frank Bowser, J. L. Spillette and Mr. Vale. The firm's lease is up at its present location in Toronto and it was planned to relocate out of town. The firm was seeking a seven-acre site with rail facilities.

Officers of the firm were shown the site on Queen St. which at that time still had the raised right of way of the old Metropolitan trolley line. There was sufficient expression of approval of the site to make it seem worthwhile for the site to be levelled. A special council meeting was called and Mr. Bowser was given permission to have the right of way levelled. By using bulldozers, Mr. Bowser was able to have the site levelled in a few days.

Following inspection of the levelled site, officers of the firm said it would be suitable if other factors such as freight rates could be arranged. Following a series of conferences in which virtually the whole council took part at various times, officers of the plant indicated their approval and on Monday, the deed was signed.

In signing the deed, Mr. McGuire said that the firm had been deluged with requests to locate in various municipalities throughout Ontario. He said he had been impressed with "the aggressiveness and quick action of the industrial committee and council generally". Other municipalities had offered sites but none had shown the willingness to back their promises with the same quick action that was shown in Newmarket, he declared.

MARK 25TH YEAR OF WOMEN'S LEAGUE FIRST WAR VETERAN, ALEX. BROWN DIES

Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey, president of the Newmarket Catholic Women's League, and Mrs. Leo Forhan, war convener, were delegates to the 25th anniversary of the Catholic Women's League of Canada in Toronto Nov. 7 and 8. Highlight of the occasion was the address of Archbishop McGuigan in which he urged the women of Canada to maintain their high standard of work for the future and not to become lax now that the years of strife are done.

Miss Foy, president of the Diocesan League, said that the national membership had now reached 80,000, and that Mrs. P. McGarry of Kitchener, past president, had been awarded the O.B.E. by King George.

A veteran of the first great war, Alexander Gibson Brown, died after an illness of three months.

Mr. Brown was born in Stouffville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brown. He was in his 88th year.

Surviving besides his wife are two sons, Douglas and Harold; and two daughters, Misses Lilian and Elsie Brown, all of Newmarket.

Members of the Newmarket Veterans' Association were pallbearers. Rev. Henry Cotton conducted the service at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

INDUSTRY MEANS NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

Of all the considerations evoked by the announcement that the Canadian Hoffman Co. was locating in Newmarket, one that stands out is that the town must prepare to accept heavier responsibilities. It is not so much the fact that a new industry is coming to town as the very real possibility of more new industries locating here.

By their energy and aggressiveness, members of the Newmarket council and more specially, members of the industrial committee, have shown what can be accomplished to sell the town as an industrial location. A site had to be levelled. It was, in a matter of days. Power lines had to be rerouted. They were. Plans and surveys had to be prepared. They were. No effort was spared and the result is a new industry, one which the citizens of Newmarket can be proud to have located here.

There is every reason to believe that other industries will locate here in the near future. Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee, has stated that Newmarket can look forward to an industrial boom in the coming year. It will mean the building of new services, repairing of roads and bridges. It will mean heavy initial outlays in the preparation of suitable sites. In return, there is the larger range of employment, increased business on Main St., and a steady approach towards the realization of community needs like larger and better appointed schools, playgrounds and community centres, as land which yielded no tax return is made profitable.

As important is the fact that an abundance of industry is Newmarket's best insurance against the return of the dark days of the 30's. Industry does not necessarily mean large factories. Two men operating a wood working shop are operating an industry. The small industries are just as important as the larger ones. The point to be emphasized is that where there are numerous industries, large and small, the effects of a slack business period are better distributed.

The location of Canadian Hoffman Co. in Newmarket is indicative of a new page in Newmarket's long history. It demonstrates what can be accomplished by united and energetic effort. It demonstrates further that Newmarket need never fear competition with other municipalities in local advantages. The same spirit that brought arrangements with the Canadian Hoffman Co. to a successful conclusion can make Newmarket a model community if applied with equal vigor by all the citizens to present problems.

HOG SCHEME AID FOR EXPORTS

The hog producers who attended the meeting in Newmarket town hall Nov. 14 to discuss the proposed hog marketing scheme offered for their approval by the provincial government, heard from Kenneth M. Betzner, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, an argument so much in favor of the scheme that it overshadows all other considerations. Mr. Betzner said that under present conditions Canada would be lucky if able to fulfil even 65 percent of its present hog contract with Great Britain. He favored the scheme as a means towards meeting the contract provisions.

"Irregularity of supply cost Canada its hog market in Great Britain after the last war and if hog production continues to fall, is likely to cost Canada its present market," he said. Hog production has virtually ceased in the western provinces and Ontario, with a 350 million pound yield, can do little more than meet domestic demands, he continued. This means that on Quebec and the Maritimes falls the burden of meeting the current contract with Great Britain.

It has been stressed time and time again that Canada is an exporting nation. Nor can that fact be repeated often enough. Canada is more than able to supply her own domestic needs. Her prosperity comes from what she earns through exports. The export of hog products is important in maintaining the necessary high level of outgoing products. It would be a sad blow to Canadian hopes of prosperity if the United Kingdom market were lost through inability to fulfil contracts.

The hog marketing scheme would help maintain this market in the following ways. 1. Under the conditions of the scheme, the hog producer would be able to set a floor price in advance. The risk that the producer must now face would be removed. He would be able to calculate his potential return before starting his production. 2. Through control of production, a steadier flow of hogs would reach the market. Though not mentioned in the rough draft of the scheme, Mr. Betzner pointed out that by means of better prices to offset the higher costs of winter production, the producer would be encouraged to continue at a full production at a time when he usually slackens.

3. Since the scheme would be province-wide if accepted, the hog producers would be in a strong position to protest the rising cost of grain for example which has affected the production of hogs. 4. In event the dominion contract was lost, the Ontario hog producers would be in a position to market through their own agencies. The hog producer would be protected against complete loss of market. 5. As a bulwark against that eventually, the hog producers, under the scheme, would be in a position to encourage the production of better grade hogs. To quote Mr. Betzner, "there is always a market for high grade products, including hogs."

Registered hog producers have until Dec. 8 to mark their ballots whether or not they are in favor of the proposed hog marketing scheme. The proposal of such a scheme is in itself a high point in agricultural progress; the acceptance of the scheme would mean a large advance towards guaranteeing the farmer a stable income.

RECREATION OR ROWDYISM

The complaints of rowdyism among public school pupils on their way to and from school which were heard at the public school board meeting Tuesday night suggest that it is a problem that is growing out of hand, that it is something more than the manifestation of the animal spirits of growing children.

One cause of the condition is the war. Children whose fathers are in the services or whose mothers have been working in war plants have been deprived of the benefit of parental training at a time when they need it most. The war is over but the results of the lack of proper home training continue to be seen.

Another cause is the growing belief among some parents that the school teacher has assumed all the obligations that formerly were the parents'. It is the extreme of the recognition that a school teacher is more than an instructor in the three R's. The teacher does have a growing influence on children and teachers have come to recognize they are responsible in part for the formation of good character and personality in their students. However, the parent is still the first half of the partnership and unless the parent is able to instill the qualities of responsibility and discipline in his children, the teacher has little to work on.

Whatever the causes, the cure is suggested in the report of what the provincial government is ready to do to encourage full time recreation programs among municipalities which was given by Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards at the same school board meeting. Mrs. Edwards pointed out that the government was ready to assume one-third the salary of a year-round recreation director and up to 20 percent of the cost of equipment.

Newmarket has had one experience with a recreation program for children and there is no doubt of the excellence of the results. Unfortunately, the program was limited to six weeks during the summer. The reports of rowdyism among public school pupils suggest that such a program is needed the year around. Supporting this is the endorsement of the public school board of such a program and the offer of school facilities to help carry it out.

This is a period of considerable unrest. Changes in employment, the return of servicemen, labor troubles and the world conditions generally have created considerable uncertainty among adults. The feeling is communicated to children. At the same time, municipalities are being offered greater aid to combat the results of this unrest than was ever offered them before. It would be wise for Newmarket to avail itself of this aid. Otherwise, the reports of rowdyism among public school pupils will become evidence of an increasing dangerous situation about which nothing was done.

GIVE WAR SURPLUSES TO SCHOOLS

The War Assets Corporation is charged with the disposal of war surpluses, reconditioned material which has peacetime use, and the thousand and one odds and ends which a country needs for its services in the time of war. The object of the corporation is to avoid the wholesale junking that followed the last war by selling what is useable and crediting the return against the costs of war.

Towards the end, the corporation has utilized existing retail outlets and has been careful to dispose of its goods in such a way as to not affect manufacturers and marketing agencies dealing in the same sort of goods. New uses have been discovered for the tools of war. For example, a large surplus of steel helmets was sold to children who wanted to play at being commandos.

With one exception, the activities of War Assets Corporation have met with general public approval. The exception is the lack of consideration given by the corporation to the needs of schools. According to the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association, only those goods which are non-saleable or scrap are loaned to the schools. Otherwise, the schools must buy what they can use.

The brief from the C.N.E.A. points out that the schools are in need "for instructional purposes, machine tools, motion picture projectors, radio receivers and typewriters and other articles the War Assets Corporation will soon have for its disposal. The schools turned over their resources to the dominion government during the war to train workers for industry and armed service with the understanding explicit or implied that the dominion government would replace equipment so used or worn out after the war." Now, continues the brief, the government and War Assets Corporation says that the schools must pay for such equipment.

More to the point, however, is that the schools when purchasing such equipment from the War Assets Corporation must use taxpayers' money. In effect, the saving made by the corporation to the federal taxpayer when it sells equipment to the schools is charged against the municipal and provincial taxpayer. It is a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul. It would be much more simple to give the schools the equipment they need.

RED SHIELD CANVASS

The sum of $1,532.32 was raised in the Salvation Army Home Front appeal of a few months ago in Newmarket and district. Included in the report from Salvation Army headquarters here was a break down of how the money was being spent. The figures tell of the variety of the Army's interests. The money is spent as follows:

For social readjustment of veterans and care of veterans' families, 18.73 percent;

On the maintenance of homes for unfortunate girls, homeless children, aged women, and visiting sick and infirm, 24.73 percent;

On the relief and rehabilitation of destitute men, first offenders, prisoners and their dependants, 10.87 percent;

On preventative efforts, character building, youth activities and spiritual and personal service, 29.43 percent;

On the training for life and service of youth groups, young men and women for leadership in social service and other activities throughout the dominion, 16.84 percent.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COVILLE

ENVIRONMENT

A noted Jesuit, I think it was Loyola, once said "give me a child for the first seven years of his life and I can mould him to my desire," or words to that effect. I cannot remember the exact quotation, but it certainly stresses the fact that the things with which we surround ourselves, or by which we are surrounded, exert an enormous influence on us, mentally, physically and spiritually.

Those who ought to know, educators and clergy, seem to feel that it is almost beyond hope that Nazi youth, trained from childhood in the sordid and brutal Nazi philosophy, will ever become normal. The only hope for a re-born Germany is in the babies of today and the reversion of the older folk to a way of life foreign to Germany since the advent of Hitler.

Once German youth were steeped in the glorious heritage of music that was theirs, the children delighted in the fairy tales and folk lore which seemed to fit in with their cosy homes and great forests. But Hitler took the children and made of them brutal little automatons. The result was the Germany of today.

I suppose that each home is a testing ground for those who believe in the sanctity of the individual, the right of children to have a happy, normal and unregimented childhood. The children of Germany were completely surrounded by Nazi influences. They thought, studied, worked, played and ate by rule—Nazi rule. There was no religion unless the adoration of Hitler could be called such. Home influence was nil, because the children were even taught to spy on their parents. They never knew what it was to be a child. The result of this training is all evidence of the effect of such an environment. None can ignore it.

Environment brings us back to the core of all things. It is the hub from which stem the spokes of education, secular and sacred, the happiness and well being of the individual, the success or failure in the business of life. There is the physical well being of the family. Sitting down to a daintily served, well cooked meal tends to relax nerves strained by the worries and fears of the day, and makes a fitting background for talk which can range from the earth to the moon, or from the difficulty of making things without shortening to the behaviour of the cats. There is the pleasure of reading or being read to, reading that varies from the Bible with its wealth of stories and poetry and heart warming help in time of need, to articles on every phase of life under the sun and some good humorous tales thrown in by way of relief. Then there's music—home-made and radio—and who can resist its beauty. A child who goes out from a home where these things are the order of the day is ready for day school and Sunday school, he can build on a foundation already laid. His environment has given him the equipment with which to mould his future.

I heard my mother and Mrs. Elmer Starr the other evening discussing how they had learned their alphabet. Mother said "We never learned it in rotation, we learned from the capital letters in the big family Bible, just as they came." Mrs. Elmer said "So did I." Here were two women, widely separated by age, country and faith, but both brought up in God-fearing homes where the Bible was THE book. I learned my alphabet that way too and I can remember every picture in that big Bible as clearly as if I saw each one yesterday, for every Sunday I sat on the floor and studied them and practised my new-found art of reading. Mrs. Elmer said their Bible contained no pictures as her parents felt they were not real presentations of the subject, which is true, but I loved those pictures anyway.

To a great extent, from environment comes character, and I read once that character is three-fourths of life. So it's up to us to keep environment free from "malice, hate and all uncharitableness," and to have it warm with love, with home comfort and the fear of God. In that way we can keep the foundation of our lives secure and strong.

GOSPEL ECHOES

By REV. HENRY COTTON, TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

Religion, the Christian religion, is like a diamond. It has many facets. In fact it is more precious than diamonds. Religion challenges us and comforts us. It is not an opiate as some would have us believe. It has infinitely more to offer us than pie in the sky. It does a number of things for us and to us. The more important of these is that it gives us a Saviour. It relates us through that Saviour to our God and Father and to Eternity.

God made us restless. This may account in some measure for the unrest so prevalent in the world today. He filled us with discontent, Divine discontent. Our souls are restless until they find their rest in Him.

Every man, and woman for that matter, is fighting a hard battle with the world, the flesh and the devil. Yes, I am old fashioned enough to believe there is a devil. In our fight with Satan we need strength and comfort. There is One who can make us more than conquerors and there is a source of all comfort. Long before Christ these words were written: "Comfort ye, comfort ye, my people saith your God."

Then when the Promised One came he said, "I will not leave you comfortless, I will come to you." The Comforter has come! The Light is come! The great tragedy is that men have darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil. Return unto the Lord and He will have mercy and abundantly pardon.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

The Editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: I would like to express my opinion on a matter which I consider of utmost importance to us all. On Halloween night there was a splendid program in the arena. The arena was filled with young and old, and the program will be, I hope, an annual event from now on.

What would have happened, however, if at the height of festivities there had been a puff of smoke at the east end of the arena and someone had shouted "fire." There was only one door open at the northwest corner of the arena, and the passageway to the main entrance is too narrow. If there had been a puff in the arena while it was full, many would have died in that passageway.

Surely, it would not cost much to improve the side exits, add a new one, and have a man in uniform stationed near the doors to throw them open in case of emergency.

Taxpayer.

ORGANIZING SPORTS

By ORVILLE GANTON

The popular "Down the Centre" columnist believes the war is the cause of the present sports depression. Could be. But as far as hockey is concerned, the military camp was all that saved Newmarket from a complete blackout in the hockey picture. Newmarket's hockey reputation was established mainly through winning the Canadian junior championship and by the number of professional players developed here.

Winning the junior championship was a bloodless victory because the entire team was imported. Importing players besides being unsportsmanlike is poor business as it upsets the balance of the group or league and thus kills off competition. It always reacts unfavorably on the instigators. Moreover, the smartest players that ever represented this town were home-grown, developed on our own rink in town leagues and district groups. This should prove conclusively that with proper organization we can promote class 'A' hockey.

Facilities for playing hockey are much more expensive than for other sports. However, to offset that, it is a tremendous drawing card and pays big dividends. Newmarket has the main essential which is a good rink. If we are satisfied to foster hockey on a purely amateur basis solely for the benefit of the youth in this community, the rink will pay. But on the other hand, if we allow it to become a medium through which professional sport promoters and racketeers might exploit our youth and taxpayers then it will be no dice.

The success of the community project carnival last winter and the recent Halloween party should convince all pessimists just what can be accomplished when public spirit is properly harnessed.

Good amateur hockey does not need to be subsidized; it will pay its own way. Before the O.H.A. became a chattel of professional promoters, hockey thrived in every Ontario community. Switching the final games to the city rinks, too many series with round robin play-offs, and other highly commercialized ideas have almost killed small town hockey. The gullibility of the sporting public is amazing but even it has limits.

In days gone by we supported junior and intermediate O.H.A. teams and a trolley league entry as well, in a cigar-box rink. If we organize the entire district, sponsor school and minor teams, eliminate the profiteers and manage the rink on a community basis, we can do it again. However, hockey is only one of many recreations that can be promoted in a rink.

Ottawa News-Letter

By J. E. SMITH, M.P., NORTH YORK

The highlight of the week here in Ottawa was the visit of Prime Minister Clement R. Atlee of Great Britain and the return of Prime Minister King after an absence of seven weeks in Britain and the United States. The two statesmen received an enthusiastic welcome to Ottawa Saturday, and were loudly cheered as they were "piped" from the station to the Chateau Laurier.

Monday at three o'clock the House of Commons galleries were crowded to capacity to hear the British prime minister address the members of the senate and the House of Commons. Mr. Atlee is small of stature, mild mannered and soft-spoken. He has neither the color nor oratorical gifts of Churchill, but he spoke with a simplicity and sincerity which greatly impressed his audience. No stranger to Canada, this was, however, his first visit as prime minister. In a half-hour address which was broadcast here and overseas, Mr. Atlee paid glowing tribute to Canada's war effort, to the co-operation of Canada's wartime government, and to Prime Minister King. He referred to the recent election which made him prime minister and to the many problems facing governments all over the world. When he last visited Ottawa officially, he said, our problem was mobilizing our people for war and war production, and now both nations face the problem of demobilization. He said that food rationing was still severe and provided barely enough to maintain health in Britain. Housing was a big problem. He said that extreme difficulty in finding a place to live and in furnishing and equipping a home if they found one, he said.

Mr. Atlee spoke more about Britain in explaining something of her present-day troubles in converting from war to peace. The labor party, he stressed, believes in an expansionist economy with a steadily increasing standard of living for the masses of the people throughout the world. He was loudly applauded as he declared that there was a world-wide determination never to return to the dark days of the thirties when there was hunger and want amidst plenty in abundance. Canada he found to be pulsating with life and vigor, but he assured his audience that Britain and Europe are neither old nor effete.

Prime Minister King was given a rousing reception as he rose to introduce the distinguished visitor. He referred to his long record of public service and his great interest in social problems. Mr. Atlee has been a member of the House of Commons for some 25 years. One of a well-to-do family he is well educated, but has long been associated with the Labor Party and represents in parliament the constituency of Limehouse, definitely a working-man's district.

Perhaps the most momentous decision affecting the future of mankind was that made in Washington at the meeting of President Truman, Mr. Atlee and Mr. King. The future and security of every man, woman and child through the years to come depends in large measure on what use it is to be made of the discovery of atomic energy. The safety and continuance of our civilization depends on the success of the decisions made at this conference.

Mrs. Joseph Ryan Buried In Brock Township

Mrs. Jos. Ryan, Georgina township, died at the home of Mrs. Will Umphrey, Udonia, on Friday, Nov. 2. Mrs. Ryan had been in ill-health for about three years, but was only in bed three weeks before her death.

Born and brought up in the Holt section of East Gwillimbury, she was, before her marriage, Minerva Stuffles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stuffles, Holt. She came to Georgina as a bride with her husband, John Joseph Ryan, and spent all her married life in Georgina township. The late Mrs. Ryan was a keen worker in the Udonia W.A. and other activities of Udonia United church.

Surviving are her husband, three sons, Wesley, Sutton, David and Jim at home; and three daughters, Mrs. Ivan Bailey (Corra), Elm Grove, twin daughters, Mrs. Wm. LONG-TERM PASTURES DISCUSSED ON TOUR

Farmers from York and Peel counties, seedsmen from Toronto, feed and fertilizer men from various sections and editors of the farm press visited seven farms in York county Nov. 2 to see and discuss long-term pastures. The tour was sponsored by the York county council and York County Crop Improvement Association. There were 60 present.

The farms visited were W. B. Davidson, Agincourt; Russell Little, Agincourt; Dalton Rumney, Victoria Square; Leitchcroft Farms, Dollar; Jack Fraser, Concord; Alfred Bagg, Edgeley and Don Head Farms, Richmond Hill. On some farms demonstration plots laid down in 1944 and 1945 by the York County Crop Improvement Association were viewed; on other farms long-term pasture mixtures and pasture improvement and management as carried on were outlined on the field by the respective farmers.

All the farmers stressed the importance of heavy seeding of pasture mixtures, pasture clipping of weeds and coarse grass periodically, of extra fertility prior to seeding and of sustained fertility each year. Chain harrowing has become a practice on most of these farms. Much interest was shown in Ladino clover which is becoming popular as a straight pasture crop and in mixtures.

A two-pound prize of Ladino clover seed donated by A. E. McKenzie Seed Co., Toronto, to be won by a farmer present at the start of the tour was won by R. P. Armstrong, Locust Hill. Noon lunch was served at Leitchcroft Farms.

Many expressed the wish that a one-day "school" might be held in the near future where pasture management discussions could be tied in with observations of the tour.

Ottawa News-Letter

By J. E. SMITH M.P., NORTH YORK

The following resolution dealing with the adoption of a national flag is now before the house: That in the opinion of this house, it is expedient that Canada possesses a distinctive national flag and that a joint committee of the Senate and the House of Commons be appointed to consider and report upon a suitable design for such a flag.

In a speech supporting the resolution Hon. Ian Mackenzie spoke for the government. I quote extracts from the veterans' affairs minister's speech presenting the issue.

"In the life of every nation symbols are important, and perhaps the most important of these is a national flag. We have shared the union jack, and we shall always honor it as the symbol of much that is best and most precious in our heritage; but we have had nothing that has been peculiarly and indisputably our own, that would symbolize Canada—all of Canada and everyone in Canada. There should be something that all can see and look to with pride, as the symbol of this great nation of ours, to which affection and loyalty can attach, and which can become the sign of unity and purpose that will make Canada great."

I agree that Canada should have a national flag, that the union jack should form a part of it as a symbol of our association with the British Commonwealth of Nations. I hope the house will not make a political football of the issue, and that it may be decided upon quickly and without any needless waste of time through endless discussion.

A new war has been declared in Canada in the interest of peace: the Department of Justice is going to clean up on gun-toting. Provision has been made making it a most serious offence to carry concealed weapons, ordering a new census of revolvers with a re-registration of them, and confiscating small arms unless a private citizen can satisfy the department he has a vital need for such weapons.

On Nov. 26, the co-ordinating committee of the dominion-provincial conference on reconstruction meets in the capital. It is fully expected here that the provincial leaders will indicate general acceptance of the far-reaching proposals made by the dominion government last August.

It is certain that the great majority of Canadian taxpayers favor the dominion government's proposals in principle, and the provincial leaders are not blind to this straw flying in the wind. Even the critics of the government proposals admit they represent a fair, indeed generous, settlement of the financial and jurisdictional problems as they exist between the provinces and the dominion.

Avoid Financial Suicide

The average MORTALITY of Canadian hogs, between birth and market, is about 40% ! !

This is a costly loss to hog producers. But consider that, to average 40%, many farmers must suffer losses of 60% and more. Losses higher than 40% constitute FINANCIAL SUICIDE in the hog business ! !

WHEN DO THESE PIGS DIE?

The great majority of deaths occur between birth and ten weeks of age. Up to four weeks of age much of the mortality is due to ANEMIA - feeding REDUCED IRON or IRON SULPHATE will prevent this. Get your supplies from us ! !

Between four weeks of age and ten weeks of age much of the loss is due to LOW FEED CONSUMPTION and POOR NUTRITION. Correct this situation - feed palatable, completely fortified SHUR-GAIN 18% Pig Starter. Start at 2-3 weeks of age. Feed the Starter in a hopper, in a creep - DRY - and feed nothing else, except fresh green feed, if you have it. Put no more Starter in the hopper each day than the pigs will completely clean up that day. Continue in this way to ten weeks of age, weaning the pigs at eight weeks of age.

AVOID FINANCIAL SUICIDE — FEED THE SHUR-GAIN WAY! !

KETTLBY CHURCH WELCOMES 40 NEW MEMBERS

Kettleby, Nov. 15 — A large congregation was present in the United church on Sunday evening to witness one of the most impressive services in years. After several weeks of preparation the pastor, Rev. C. E. Cragg, received 40 new members, 19 adults and the rest in the teenage group.

After answering the regular questions, the new members formed a circle down the side aisles and across the front and back of the church and with hands joined sang Bless Be The Tie That Binds. After the singing, the minister, assisted by Raymond Marshall, Roy Geer and S. J. Heacock, welcomed the new members. Following the reception, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to the largest number in the memory of the oldest members.

A. E. Manser, W.P.T.B. investigator, said that he had interviewed the accused in August and accused had made a statement in which he said he had sold the car for $800, the price to include a new heater and repairs. In a second statement, accused said that he had torn up a statement of sale on which the price was $800 and had asked the purchaser to mark the statement of sale $650, so that $150 could be allowed for repairs, Mr. Manser said. "I examined the car and found evidence of the fenders being painted but there were three cracked windows," said witness. "The car was not in as good shape as a dealer would have put it."

N. L. Mathews, K.C., special prosecutor for W.P.T.B., read from orders in council setting forth how the price on the particular model of car would be set. The car was a 1940 deluxe model sedan with a sales price of $1,230 to which could be added $50 for transportation and handling, the price of spare tire and tube, and $35 for a heater for a total of $1,338, he said.

"According to the W.P.T.B. scale, the ceiling on a car of that age is 50 percent of the sales price, $669," said Mr. Mathews. "Since it was not reconditioned before selling and since it was not sold by a dealer, the maximum price at which it could be sold is 90 percent of the $669 ceiling, $602."

Accused said that he had inquired the ceiling price of the car and had been told it was $650 and that he thought the additional $150 price was fair to include repairs and the heater.

York County Junior Farmers Have Finals Of Oratorical Test

Jess Bryson of Maple and Orphie Orr of Vellore will represent York County junior farmers in the oratorical contest with Simcoe County winners for the right to proceed into the zone finals and the Ontario Junior Farmers' oratorical championship. Mr. Bryson and Miss Orr won their sections last Friday night at Aurora high school when the York County eliminations were held. Judges were J. B. Bastedo, Newmarket, Mrs. Elton Armstrong, Armitage, and Bruce Beer, Brampton.

Betty McLean of Unionville was the first speaker. Her subject was "The value of home-making club work." She outlined the various projects being conducted by such clubs among the farm girls and said that as a result, the girls learned independence, self-reliance, poise, and many hidden talents were discovered. She told of the work being carried on by the Unionville club.

Douglas Myles of Unionville spoke on "Supplementary education for farm youth." Mr. Myles pointed out only 50 percent of farm children started to high school, and only ten percent achieved senior matriculation standing. "The three R's are not sufficient to run a farm today. The farmer if he is going to do a good job must have more education," he said. Calf, swine, grain, and judging clubs were doing a good job but there were far too many young farmers who failed to take advantage of the opportunities offered, he stated.

"Farmers can stand together," was the subject chosen by Everett Giles of Virginia. Everett, the youngest entrant, argued that farmers needed good organization as a group because practically every other occupation was fully organized. "If there are four men in a fight and three have clubs, unless he arms himself the same way the fourth man is going to take an awful beating," he said.

Jess Bryson stressed the nobility of farming in his address on "The challenge of agriculture to modern youth." "The farmer feeds the world and must work, sacrifice, and keep on working even when he can't see where he is going," he declared. Despite everything the farmer had distinct advantages over all walks of life as long as he had security of tenure, he added. Modern conveniences were being extended to the farm, and the future of the country depended upon more people staying on the farm, he concluded.

Orpie Orr, who had chosen the same subject as Miss McLean, told of the influence of home-makers clubs on high school girls, young married women, and girls "who stayed at home." Dress-making, nutrition, cooking, gardening and music were all advantageous, but most of all was the fostering of a "community spirit" and the exchange of new ideas and different experiences, she declared.

J. B. Bastedo gave the judge's report and each speaker received $5 in books from the Toronto Downtown Kiwanis club Wednesday as well as being guests of that organization at luncheon at the Royal York hotel.

Leila and Vera Butcher, of Vellore, accompanied by Ruth Keffler, sang two duets while Sam Dawe sang two solos. The Rose of Tralee and Chickory Chick. Dick Hilliard, assistant agricultural representative, explained the workings of the provincial oratorical contest and Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn spoke briefly.

Vice-President Ruth Keffler, on behalf of the junior farmers, presented a cheque to Gordon Orr who will represent the association at Chicago this fall, while Miss Mary Laviolette, the girl winner, will receive a like amount through the mail.

Wally Reesor, secretary-treasurer, presented a cheque for $208 to A. H. Martin, assistant director of agricultural representatives, to be used towards the purchase of a station wagon for Sunnybrook military hospital. "York county junior farmers have led the way in aiding war services, having contributed about a third of the total made by junior farmers' clubs," Mr. Martin said. Since 1940, a total of $3,697 has been raised by York county farm youth and in addition, $400 has been contributed to the Aid To Russia Fund. This was all in addition to any grants made to local charities by various clubs.

James D. Moore of Brantford, former assistant to Mr. Cockburn, was presented with a gift by the organization, with Past President Gordon Orr doing the honors.

Back From Overseas

Aurora welcomed home this week more of her sons who have seen service overseas, and they are now enjoying leave and a welcome reunion with relatives.

Tpr. Harold Billing, Canadian Armored Corps, returned to Canada aboard the aircraft carrier, H.M.S. Puncher, and the passage to Canada was the roughest of the season. The huge ship rolled on a 43 degree angle at times, and heavy seas cracked a seam up forward. Planks on the flight deck were sprung. Tpr. Billing enlisted in 1943 and trained at Newmarket and Camp Borden before going overseas in 1944 where he saw considerable action on the Continent.

Tpr. Ernie Rank returned abroad the Queen Mary after an absence of four years from home. He enlisted in 1941 with the First Hussars and went overseas that year. He accompanied the unit into action on D-Day and was in action with them through Belgium and Holland. A brother, Tom Rank, who served overseas with the Auxiliary Fire Fighters, returned home earlier this year.

Pte. Leslie Williams, Larmont St., returned home with the Royal Regiment. An employee of the Sisman Shoe Co., he enlisted in 1943 and went overseas the next year after completing his training at Camp Borden. He saw action on the Continent. Two brothers-in-law, Sgt. David Judd and Paratrooper Don Judd, returned home a few months ago.

Home from Ceylon for further medical treatment is WO1 Clarence Fisher, R.C.A.F., of Councillor A. N. Fisher. WO1 Fisher enlisted in April, 1942, and graduated as a wireless air gunner at Mossbank, Sask. After instructional duty at Edmonton, he was stationed in the Bahamas. He married Miss Effie Sheridan of Whitechurch township before being posted to India and Ceylon. In April of this year, he was one of the five survivors of a crew of eight which crashed into the Indian Ocean following mine laying operations. He pays great tribute to penicillin, receiving 56 injections during the worst period of his illness. WO Fisher is seeing for the first time his daughter, Marlene, born a few months after her daddy left for India.

Pte. Bert Long, Centre St., arrived home on the Queen Mary. Bert enlisted in 1943, with the infantry and went overseas in 1944 from Camp Borden. He saw action on the western front. He was formerly employed with Collis Leather Ltd.

Technical Enterprises Ltd., New Business In Town

The top floor of the old match factory premises, now occupied by the Canadian Anodised Products Ltd., has been leased to Technical Enterprises Ltd., a newly formed company which will specialize in a new moulded veneer process. The firm have 2,500 feet of floor space, and their equipment is being installed under the direction of T. J. Watts, vice-president of the firm.

A. M. Gifford, Toronto, is sales manager. Considerable interest has been shown by many large firms in the unique method of producing synthetic veneer finishes presently being experimented upon on the premises, it is said.

The process is suited for caskets, motor boat frames, skiffs, toboggans, furniture and other wood products, and present indications are that there will be a wide market for the firm's products. The firm is privately owned and once it has received or built the patterns required in its work, it will be in a position to go ahead. The firm will veneer the product to specification as desired and the assembly will take place elsewhere. It will be some months before the firm is in full swing, and at the outset only a small number will be employed.

County Council Hears Oratorical Contest Finals

Irene Banas, Thornhill, who spoke on New Canadians, was judged the public and separate school oratorical champion of York county at the finals held before York county council on Friday. There were 11 contestants, eight girls and three boys, and the female entrants captured the first three places, actually four since there were two tied for third. Irene received $25.

Second place went to Jacqueline Pape, Forest Hill Village, who spoke on Race, Color and Creed, and received $15. Tied for third and each receiving $10 were Patricia Healey, York township, and Elizabeth McKenzie, York county. While the district entrant, Anne McRae, Aurora, did not place in the top three, she did a splendid job, and received a fine round of applause besides bringing Aurora good publicity. She received an engraved certificate and $5 worth of war savings certificates.

Judges were Walter Frisby, University of Toronto, H. A. Griffin, superintendent of schools for York township, and Arthur Kelly, K.C. Mr. Frisby termed the contest "the finest of its kind we have ever heard anywhere." Deputy-Reeve Arthur D. Evans, Newmarket, presided and Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook, Aurora, was a member of the committee in charge. Warden Fred Lundy extended congratulations to the winners, and the county representatives from the municipalities in which the contestants lived presented the individual awards.

RETIRED FARMER, 73, ROBBED BY YOUTH

Around midnight last Saturday, George Kaiser, 73-year-old King township retired farmer, was awakened from his sleep at his Temperanceville home by a young man who demanded his money. The intruder was unarmed but threatened Mr. Kaiser with physical violence if he raised a disturbance or failed to come through with the money.

In poor health for the last few years, Mr. Kaiser told the man his money was in his trouser pocket, and the young man quickly seized the money and change, less than $10, and departed. County Constable Aubrey Fleury and Constable William Davis of King township are investigating, and a widespread search has not as yet resulted in an arrest, although police are hopeful of disposing of the case soon.

Choose Victoria St. Site For Proposed School Building

Aurora town council and the Aurora public school board met on Monday evening in the council chambers to discuss the proposed new public school. As a result, as plans are prepared by the architect, Forsey Page, and the matter progresses, the two bodies will confer from time to time. It will be necessary for the municipal council to approve the final plans and obtain permission from the Ontario municipal board before the matter can eventually be proceeded with.

In addition, once plans have been decided upon, it will be necessary to secure permission to build from the dominion government. The school board has already conferred with the department of education and secured its approval to proceed with the matter.

The main point discussed was the question of a site and after a lengthy discussion, the proposed site on Victoria St. was endorsed and negotiations will now be proceeded with by the board to acquire the extra property needed in addition to the present school site. Under present plans this will require the purchase of two houses north of the school on Victoria St. and the acquisition of certain parcels of land from the rear of four residences on the south side of Mosley St. Town Solicitor L. C. Lee will look after the legal details for the school board.

"The meeting was very satisfactory and both bodies are working in harmony," Mayor Ross Linton said. "There is not much that can be done until the properties needed are acquired and the plans prepared. There is quite a difference of opinion on the various proposals and cost, but nothing will be decided until the board have approved a set plan."

Fire Contract With King Waits Nomination Results

With nomination day in King township tomorrow, and the possibility that there may be some changes in council, Aurora will await until the new township council is formed before proceeding further with the fire agreement between the two municipalities which still remains unsigned although Aurora continues to give the township service.

King township council objected to a new clause in the agreement which provided for indemnification to Aurora, the Aurora fire brigade and Aurora firemen in case of any accidents or mishaps while the brigade is fighting a fire in the township. A similar clause was included in the agreement with Whitechurch township and was signed by that municipality.

Mayor Ross Linton has been empowered by the Aurora council to deal with the matter but as far as not been able to get a satisfactory reply from King. Aurora council feels the request and the clause to be reasonable and while the likelihood of Aurora or the firemen ever being called upon for liability is very remote, there is no reason King township should not agree to the request for indemnity.

"We are under no obligation to answer calls other than under the agreement, but we have always been glad to do so and are continuing to do so even though there is no agreement at present," said Mayor Ross Linton. "The matter will have to be dealt with by the new King council for our brigade and the council are agreed to take our solicitor's advice. I am hopeful that the agreement will be signed soon."

Students Operate Own Hot Lunch Counter In School

Over 100 students at Aurora high school are now enjoying hot additions to their noon-day lunch daily. The students are all from the country and the system started on Monday with a committee composed of Agnes Hill, Lois Stonehouse, Jim McDonald, and Michael vanNosttrand, in charge. A teacher is assigned daily for supervision by Principal J. H. Knowles. Trustee Ernest Eveleigh donated an electric stove for the lunch room which is located in the basement.

Here's how it works out. The students' committee decides on the hot item, cream of tomato soup (Monday), pork and beans (Tuesday), macaroni and cheese, peas, hot cocoa, etc. Tickets are five cents each, or 22 for $1 and any profit will go back into the fund. Students in charge daily are permitted to leave classes in time to get the food underway, and then fatigue groups, for washing dishes, and directing traffic are chosen. Monday found some traffic jams and temporary hold up but by Tuesday the committee had things going nicely.

"Swell," and "just what we've been waiting for," were the words the students described their reaction to the plan.

KEEP PRICE LEVELS FARM FORUM URGES

By MRS. W. H. WILMOT
Press Secretary

Newmarket East Radio Forum met at S. S. No. 7 school on November 19 and listened with interest to the national review of the last month's findings. The questions discussed were: could controls be lifted or eased on sugar, butter, meat or farm produce? The answers were all in the negative. If there is no waste, we are quite satisfied to do with the nutritional units as set by experts in regard to sugar, butter and meat as long as Europe is hungry.

We would like to see better material put into manufactured goods and not see shoddy woolen goods marked "all wool", crooked and knotted axe halves, cracked steam fittings, chipped enamel ware, ineffective D.D.T. placed on the market at full ceiling prices.

We have to live up to standardization of farm products and do our utmost to produce a product worthy of the ceiling price. In order to avoid inflation we think it wise to continue price control.

Which type of agreement is most satisfactory between a young chap staying on a farm and his father, a verbal agreement, to get all the money that can be spared, a definite wage each month, half of everything, or a written agreement that son gets the farm when the father retires, provoked discussion. Circumstances alter cases but a definite business arrangement should be made either by way of wages or a share of livestock so as to keep up the interest. Girls who stay at home should also receive equal consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. George Luesby, Newmarket, entertained the meeting of scholars and adults with many reels of silent motion pictures of Mr. Luesby's own production in technicolor.

The local army camp parade for the first Victory Loan, V-E Day celebration, Sir William Mulock's funeral procession, flower gardens here and there were among the interesting pictures.

The subject for next forum discussion is "What steps can you take to improve the nutritional value of the food you produce?" The meeting will be at Mr. Ivan Eves' home.

Horace Kendall, fresh from winning a rugby championship and generally seeing his St. Andrew's charges have their best gridiron season in years, has his thoughts now turned on basketball and hockey. St. Andrew's College will again be entered in the prep school basketball league and also in the North York interscholastic circuit. There will be senior and junior teams in both.

The Saints will not be entered in junior O.H.A. this season, nor will they enter the juvenile, midget or bantam series of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, according to Mr. Kendall. All the St. Andrew's teams will see plenty of action but the powers that be are not in favor of entering leagues. Games will be played with Ridley, Upper Canada, U.T.S., Lakeland, Pickering, Trinity and Cantab. It is likely, too, an entry in the North York secondary school hockey league will also be forthcoming.

The decision not to enter the O.H.A. is probably a wise one and in any case, the team will have as many games as ever. The news that the colorful Saints will not be in the O.M.H.A. series is a blow to some of the district, minor teams who had counted on the Andreans to supply both stern and convenient opposition. There will doubtless be opportunities, however, to play exhibition matches.

Jack Sibbald, who generally has a finger in the hockey pie up Sutton way, says that the Lake Simcoe metropolis will not be entered in intermediate O.H.A. as expected since a good many of the players counted upon are still in the services and Sutton is not anxious to import heavily again. There will be an entry, however, in the Ontario Rural Hockey intermediate section, which would appear to admirably answer the present Sutton requirements for hockey until new talent is developed.

Beaverton, Cannington, possibly Zephyr, and smaller centres near by will provide the opposition. Sutton is likely to enter the minor series, however, although this will not likely be definitely decided for some weeks.

Sutton leaving O.H.A. hockey would give the proposed Newmarket intermediate club a clear field northward and there are several boys up north who would fit in nicely with any team Newmarket might form.

Major Gerry Goodman has turned out a mighty sweet program for the Barrie Flyers, who are trying their hand in junior A with varied success. We suppose we are a bit prejudiced in regard to the program for we were honored by being asked to do a sports writing job and batted out three articles.

Charlie Ryan of Richmond Hill is casting an eye on the Aurora town league this winter and it may just be that there will be one or two entries from the south in the Aurora loop this winter. There is, apparently, some difficulty in regards to ice hours and arrangements with the rink. The Hill bush league carried on with considerable success the past three years but the Lions club which sponsors junior and minor hockey have the inside track it seems and the time or dates offered may or may not be satisfactory to Ryan and the teams from the countryside. The bush league rented the rink, as in Aurora, and cleared over $1,200 in the three years, as compared to the attempt to balance the budget by the minor and junior teams. If satisfactory arrangements can not be made at the Hill, there is little doubt but that the Aurora mercantiles would welcome southern entries and from the point of view of good competition, gate attractions and general interest, the Aurora league would benefit nicely from the deal. The Hill teams, except for added travel, would be as well off. With Bob Thomson, the proxy of the Aurora league, now resident in Clarkson, a re-organization of the league as well as a new president will be needed. Stewart and Bill Patrick, along with Herb Holman, will doubtless be getting things lined up soon.

Birthday greetings are in order this week for our old pal, Herb Holman, who as a soccer player and hockey referee, needs no introduction. We guess we'll have to admit to being a year older this week too.

J. C. Burns of Markham, who is well and favorably known for his affability and howling ability throughout North York and most of Ontario, will head the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association for 1946 as president. It is the first time this office has been filled by a North Yorker. Mr. Burns is the Ontario Hydro manager for the Markham district.

Markham juniors suffered the temporary loss of one of their better players in practice recently as Hal Chadwick broke his arm in a collision with the boards. The Markies have had a practice game already this year and are further advanced than any junior B club in the district. The entire district junior hockey group will probably be rated as B this year despite the fact Stouffville is entered as C and the club probably figured most would be given C rating eventually. We understand that Secretary Billy Hewitt intends to crack down on clubs who enter as C and then import a bunch of players who are resident elsewhere as used to be the case. Playing junior C hockey is to mean using your own boys exclusively. That of course was originally the way the pre-war C series was started but wasn't adhered to very long. The interpretation of the territory from which players could be drawn was so widely expanded that it killed the original intention. Stouffville like Markham and Richmond Hill, doesn't intend to depend entirely upon home talent, although they will get the first chance.

Wally Samanski, who played centre for Whitby juniors two years ago and last winter made the Oshawa Generals, has transferred to Barrie this year and has won himself a place with the newly-formed Rangers. Samanski's departure from Oshawa came as a surprise and was smart work on the part of the Barrie management.

Bruce Philby, grandson of the veteran, Fred Wagborne, who played in the nets for Galt Red Wings and won himself a suspension for bopping a referee, is in goal for Barrie and the youngster will give them plenty of good goal coverage. There are four Barrie boys on the team, a little better than most Ontario centres can boast about. It took us back to the days of Newmarket Redmen and Aurora Millionaires when we were in Barrie last week and saw the number of imports, the scurrying to find them jobs and keep them happy. Homebrew hockey may not draw as well but it has a lot fewer headaches.

Stan Evans, former Newmarket junior who has been on service with the R.C.A.F. since 1940, is back in Canada again and should be a real asset to the contemplated Newmarket intermediate club. Stan played highly effective hockey for Camp Borden Orphans, 13X Bombers and Borden R.C.A.F. in addition to playing smart softball and starting at swimming. A new series has been announced by the Ontario Minor Hockey Association and it should do much to aid the association. There will be juvenile C this winter to accommodate towns like Aurora and Newmarket and also bantam B which again helps the smaller towns. There should be a record entry. So far as we can learn, with the exception of Mr. Hardwick of Bolton, the district was not represented at the meeting.

Harold Luke of Oshawa was elected president. He has evidently had a change of heart for we recall back in 1939 at the O.H.A. meeting he criticized Aurora for having a junior C entry, saying "it's better to play junior B or juvenile than junior C."

Herb Mitchell, who back before the Great War resided on Yonge St. north in Aurora and played hockey for the high school, has come out of retirement to coach the Baltimore team in the U.S.A.H.A. series. Herb played senior hockey with Hamilton Tigers, Boston Bruins and then coached with considerable success, ending up with Hershey Bars. He then decided to resume his pharmacy business in Toronto but like an old fire horse, he has answered the call again, at a good price of course. Herb is one of Aurora's most distinguished hockey alumnus and one of the least known.

Gordy Brennan, former Aurora junior defenceman who played some first rate football in senior O.R.F.U. This year with Ottawa Trojans, had his nose broken in the final game of the season against Hamilton Wildcats in a game with nothing at stake. Ottawa finished in third place and next Saturday will meet the Big Four Roughriders for the Ottawa city title. Both Brennan and Jimmy Cumming, another ex-Aurora puckchaser, will play hockey in Ottawa this winter. Cumming also turned in a better than average game of football for the Ottawa club. Pepper Martin did not secure his discharge from the navy as expected and so did not play football for Queen's University. Pepper played on the half-line for H.M.C.S. Peregrine in their series with H.M.C.S. Stadacona for the Maritimes service rugby championship and the ex-St. Andrew's captain and Aurora junior defenceman turned in a sterling game. Another former St. Andrew's athlete of pre-war days is one of the outstanding line-men in the intercollegiate series. He is Ruliff Grass who performs at middle wing for Toronto Varsity with considerable effect. His father before him had the same successful rugby combination of St. Andrew's and Varsity.

Pickering College hockey teams are the first of the district teams to make use of the close-at-hand facilities of artificial ice offered by Barrie arena. Tommy Myers' Pickering boys have hooked an hour each week until the end of December. A few weeks ago Tommy told yours truly that Pickering would concentrate on exhibition hockey games with an entry in the North York inter-school league and perhaps an entry in a district juvenile league. "We have no outstanding prospects at the school and are not anxious to enter into a group or a series that would call for much travelling. Our idea is to give as many boys as possible a chance to play hockey, something you can't do if you shoot for championships. We would likely enter minor competition against district teams if a group is organized."

Tommy is receiving considerable praise for his efficient refereeing in rugby. In the opinion of many he is as good as those presently officiating in the bigger leagues and is better at this sport than whistle-blowing in hockey. Along with Blondie Jackson and Reg Blackstock, Pickering provided a fine trio of officials for the prep school series. Red Mitchell, who resides at Richmond Hill and one season played mercantile and town league hockey at the Hill, was sold by the Chicago club to Kansas City of the United States league when he couldn't get a passport visa to report to the Chicago Black Hawks. Like so many more who hung on when the war was in progress, once the boys started returning from the services, it was the minors for Red.

Jeff Desilets, one of the top scorers for the Toronto army team last winter and one of the leading scorers in the group, has secured his discharge and is now performing with New Haven Eagles. Desilets, nicknamed "Dizzy", played particularly well against the boys from No. 23 B.T.C. but going all out against Newmarket is a habit with him. In 1933, Jeff was centre for Stratford Midgets in their historic series against the Newmarket Redmen. Afterwards he played with Canadians and in the minors.

Maurice Gerth, who was in goal for Stratford in that series and last year was with Sudbury Open Pit, has forsaken the cold belt for sunny climates, and is with Hollywood Wolves in the Pacific coast league. "Wolves" seems a good name for any team of men in the movie centre with beauty at every corner.

Jack Wheeler has turned down an offer to play with Owen Sound in senior, and Collingwood will be represented by a strong intermediate team this winter. Among those counted upon by the Shipbuilders are Reg Wesbrooke, of Armored (Continued On Page 11)

 Corps and Army Diggers, "Nip"
 Spooner of the Aurora R.C.O.C.
 Depot, Bus. Portland, Bobby Sand-dell, who was at Newmarket camp briefly, as well as many other veterans. Lou Brunelle and several of the lads from Camp Borden are counted upon too, but the last report we had from Borden indicated that there would be at least two soldier teams who would be ready to play intermediate hockey this winter, making Barrie their

Earl McCready, one of wrestling's outstanding performers and a resident of Aurora, dubbed the "Aurora farmer", is touring the mid-west States with great success in the ring and at the box office. Earl is very popular around St. Louis where the profession is even more popular than in Toronto. He will be home for Christmas and then expects to leave for New Zealand where he will display his ring talents. McCready will not make a trip that is strange to him for he was in N.Z. previous to the war, in fact, he introduced the North American style of wrestling to the Anzacs. His popularity is as great there as here and Earl looks forward to renewing many old acquaintances. During war years, he met many lads from Down Under who had cheered his efforts and were in Canada for training.

Markham Juniors who are practising faithfully for the coming hockey season announced the policy of having as many local boys as possible on the junior team. The first practice was nearly all district boys. Now Coach Doug. James and business manager H. Bell, expect to have some of their former players from Toronto back in action. Boris Tipoff, who was the outstanding junior defenceman of the local junior group two years ago, is said to be of junior age and ready to play hockey for Markham once he has concluded his football season with Toronto Balmy Beach. Tipoff, it will be recalled, received his army call and played last winter against Newmarket camp for No. 20 B. T.C. Brantford. He may still be of junior age, however.

Wally Corner who played junior A for Young Rangers and last year participated with Markham until the non-services ruling of the O.H.A. was applied, is out of the navy now and is counted upon as is Bill Whittle, who played really good hockey for last year's edition of the Markham club, both on defence and up front. We suspect when the season gets underway, Carl Scialars, and the Forgie brothers are apt to be about the only home-brews in Markham sweaters.

Richmond Hill will again have plenty of opposition in their quest for a title. Norm. Bourne, who has been handling an entry in Richmond Hill town league, is toying with the idea of an intermediate team for the Hill this winter. He feels there are quite a few boys back from the services like Norm Mahley, Willie Beresford, Pat Patten, Bruce Stephens and others who would like to play organized hockey. There was plenty of high class Toronto and district talent playing in the Hill league last winter to make the team really formidable. More news about this later. There is a rumor that some of the older fellows around Markham feel the same way and think an intermediate team can be easily organized there. We are investigating this report.

Forest Hill, which has been playing consistently in the T.H.L. and winning its share of honors, is ready to enter the intermediate class if good grouping can be secured according to W. A. Hewitt of the O.H.A. It is just possible we shall see a nice compact O.H.A. intermediate group composed of Sutton, Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Markham and Forest Hill, which would give good competition, good gate possibilities and easy travelling. Are you listening Brother Beazer? A little investigation right now might pay off. Don't forget the O.H.A. convention at the Royal York Dec. 1 is just two weeks away. The groups will be drawn up shortly after. So we will soon have a picture of the hockey situation.

Barrie is having a junior B team as well as junior A and they intend to make strong representation for grouping with teams down this way, otherwise they will be left high and dry with no immediate opposition, a situation Barrie has had to contend with for more than one year.

Lieut. Bert. Life, track coach and soccer star at Newmarket camp is now enrolled on a physical education course at the University of Toronto, and will go on to his work with the Y.M.C.A. afterwards. Lieut. Life is admirably suited for such work, Miss Isabel Condy, Collingwood, spent several days during the week with her cousin, Mrs. M. Sheridan, and attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Eliza Fines. Mr. Elmer Starr left on Monday, Nov. 12, for Iowa, to attend the funeral of a brother-in-law.

Miss Erma Taylor was a guest during the weekend at the Toole home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coates of Sharon had Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. Douglas McClure.

Mrs. G. McClure, Mrs. A. M. Colville and Mrs. F. Williams attended the care of clothing conference in Aurora under the auspices of the Women's Institute, last Thursday.

A new furnace has been installed in the Pine Orchard Union church which makes the building very comfortable.

During the weekend, the community was saddened to learn of three deaths. Services were held for Harold Preston on Sunday, with interment in Pine Orchard. On Monday funeral rites for Mrs. Eliza Fines were held at Wesley church, Vander, with interment in Wesley cemetery. On Tuesday Mrs. George Drury was buried from Roadhouse and Rose funeral parlors and interment took place in Newmarket cemetery.

Late Saturday night the following persons arrived at the home of Elmer Starr for a few hours, Emily Park, Painted Post, New York; Gerald Thomas, Clayville, Pa.; Edith Ratcliff, Reg. N., Tryon, Okla.; Nicholas Cardone, Philadelphia; Alfred Cope, C.P.S., Big Flats, N.Y.; Alvin Mathaner, Brooklyn, N.Y.

On Thursday, Nov. 29, at Bogart school, Rev. and Mrs. Rowan will be present again with more slides. A collection will be taken to defray all expenses of the slides.

On Friday night of this week, Nov. 23, a croquignole party will be held at the school at Bogart town. All folk of the community are asked to be present as two important items are on the program.

Mrs. Chas. Toole returned home on Sunday after spending two weeks with her daughter and family at Oshawa.

The Bogart town school Christmas concert will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 20.

KESWICK

Mr. Ritchie Cowan, Nappan, N.S., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George White.

Mrs. John Hopkins is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Winch and Miss Alma Winch spent Thursday in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grant and Mr. and Mrs. James Denne, Newmarket, motored to Detroit on November 17 to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ross Grant.

Rev. Gordon Prosser and Mrs. Prosser, Hanover, are visiting Mr. William Prosser.

Mrs. John Sprague and daughter, Miss Hazel Sprague, formerly of Sutton, are visiting Miss Maye Sprague.

and that goes too for Sgt. Jack Life. Jack says he won't have much time for hockey this winter, for in addition to his army work he is busy studying to follow in Bert's footsteps next fall. Happy Emms of Barrie, coach of St. Louis Flyers, has resigned and is back in business in his hometown. First time we ever saw Hap was with Midland juniors when they were trying to best the Newmarket Redmen in the 20's. From there he went to Brantford intermediates, New York Americans, Red Wings, and the minors. Two years ago he took Omaha Knights to the American league championship. He has a flourishing business in Barrie, and so far as the grouch is concerned doesn't have to worry, so when the St. Louis club failed to get off to a good start this year and some disagreement came with the owners, it was a good chance for him to call it a day. Just the same it was probably a blow to the Barrie junior A entry who have a tie up with the St. Louis club.

Lou. Walker, formerly of Bradford, who has been one of the main cogs in baseball in Toronto for quite a few years and has served in many executive capacities, has bought a business in Lindsay and taken up residence there. All of which means we can expect either a revival of baseball or lacrosse over in Victoria County.

Bruno Cavallo of Bradford and Orillia lacrosse fame is back from overseas after being away over three years and in the thick of the fighting. He is a lance corporal, and to all his friends hasn't changed a bit.

Fred. Gibbon, brother of Jack "Busher" Gibbon, who joined his brother for the 1940 S.P.A. series in which the Redmen did surprisingly well, is now with Omaha, a Detroit farm team, and cutting quite a caper. Fred didn't stay with Newmarket although overtures were made, but he went with Native Sons, later Montreal Royals, and the army. Now he is getting his chance and making good.

ARENA NEWS

By LES BEAZER
Well here we are, going into another winter season and I guess you are all wondering what is cooking down at the Memorial Arena. We've a lot of things planned, and a lot of help is going to be needed to put them over.

We are going to have a senior team of the same calibre as last year's. We will have the final details settled by next week. A senior team will be a surprise to most hockey fans but it is a fact. We can't give you the details until we are sure of the green light on who is going to sponsor the team.

We want to see a good midget group of four teams in action this winter. There is a lot of work being done on this but so far, nothing definite.

The figure skaters are slow in organizing and something will have to be done about it, but fast. There is a good chance of getting a professional up here this year. But right now, let's get going on it.

There are enough juvenile C players around for an entry in the O.M.H.A. but the big hold-up is lack of an executive.

The ice show will be sponsored again this year by the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute. The theme is St. Valentine's Day and cut-outs for the sides around the rink are already made. The design for the ice is being sketched and one number is on paper.

Improvements have been made on the rink itself. The surface has been graded and rolled. The cushion is being painted and prospects for ice are good, very good indeed.

HEALTH NOTES

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES
Preventative measures are vaccines and toxoids.

1. Diphtheria toxoid, initial dose at six months to one year. Should be reinforced on entering primary school, and every two or three years after to maintain immunity.
2. Combination diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine.
3. Whooping cough vaccine, given at six months. Reinforcing dose in one year and again in two or three years. Child is not immune until two months after inoculating.
4. Typhoid vaccine. Because of improved sanitation, it is not so generally used but is recommended for carriers and contacts.
5. Smallpox vaccine, given at six months.

Parents are advised to take their baby to the family physician for these vaccines. Advantage may be taken of the school clinic where vaccines are being given. As these clinics are at long intervals, however, parents are advised not to wait for them.

MOUNT ALBERT OLD LANDMARK HAD VARIED EXISTENCE

Will all those who have ditty bags to fill please return them at once as they must be sent away. An old landmark has been lost since Mr. J. Many will remember it as an old tailor shop, a butcher shop, the public library and even a dwelling house, and finally a hen house. Mr. Cooper has taken it to his own property and will make a work shop of it.

A detachment of soldiers from Newmarket military camp is engaged in destroying obsolete ammunition by dumping it into Georgian Bay off Bruce Peninsula. Capt. J. M. Seldon, Newmarket, an ordnance expert, is in charge of the job. A thousand tons of ammunition are being dumped.

The ammunition is being loaded aboard a tug at Owen Sound and from there taken to the dumping location. Depth of the water where the dumping is taking place is 78 fathoms and the government has been assured that spot was not frequented by commercial fishermen and that no damage would be done to nets.

Capt. Seldon was sent to Owen Sound from Pelawawa to locate a suitable dumping place. While the ammunition cannot be salvaged, it is reported that the containers have been sold through the War Assets Corporation as tool boxes and for packing fish.

Capt. Seldon's wife and child live with his mother, Mrs. M. B. Seldon, Huron St. W.
